Keynote Title: Is purposeful work about to disappear forever?

Connecting conscious knowledge with subconscious insight in self- and career construction to rekindle a sense of meaning and hope in the workplace

Abstract: Dealing successfully with transitions in occupational environments driven by the 4th Industrial Revolution is as challenging as it is key to 'surviving' and flourishing in the 21st century. Unsurprisingly, workers exhibit feelings of insecurity and struggle to make meaning and experience a sense of purpose and hope in their (career-)lives. Consequently, a need exists for career counselling theory, research, practice, and policy to be innovated and updated regularly. Practicable career counselling intervention strategies need to be devised consistently in search of helping people kindle and rekindle a sense of making meaning, experience a sense of purpose and hope in rapidly changing work contexts, and move forward.

Keynote Title: Lights-out Universities and Twenty-first Century Competencies

Abstract: Industrial transformations are happening more rapidly than in the past. While the transition from Industry 1.0 to Industry 2.0 took a very long time, subsequent industrial transformations took place at shorter intervals. Applications, technologies and unmanned smart systems (especially Smart Factory, Smart University, cyber-physical structure that will serve the society, etc.) brought about by the rapid development in Industry 4.0 are rapidly taking place in human life. In this research, Lights-out university and 21st century competencies are discussed.

Industry 4.0, where industrial transformations have come, has forced human resources competencies to change rapidly. While the competencies of all industrial sector employees are reshaping, higher education education systems have made digitalization compulsory. For example, the digitalized university will continue its life with faculty members with digital competencies. The digital university (Lights-out University), which has emerged as a new structure, will carry out its activities independently from the campus with faculty members with digital competencies. Moreover, the digital university that can use artificial intelligence and similar algorithms will offer teaching environments designed in accordance with students' learning skills. The new University structure will become increasingly established and will need to employ faculty with twenty-first century competencies (4C or 7C).

Bio: Osman YILDIRIM is currently working with Istanbul Arel University, Turkey. He got the B.S. and M.Sc. degrees in Electronic Engineering at Bosphorus University in 1983 and 1986 respectively. In 1994 he completed his Ph.D. studies in Electronic Engineering at Istanbul Technical University. In 2006, he completed his second Ph.D. studies in Business Management at Istanbul University. Since 2013 he has been with Istanbul Arel University where he is the head of Department of Electrical Engineering. His research interests are HR, Behavioral Sciences, Strategic HR Management, Electromagnetics, Radar, and Statistical Techniques.
